ORGANIZE YOUR FRIENDS AND KIN TO WORK FOR YOU

Prepare to Get in Effective Team Work and Force a Victory.

Easy After You Have Taken Plunge.

TABLE OF BUNDLE OF STICKS.

Here are the prizes Paducah and McCracken county candidates in The Sun's Contest stand to win:

- Three Grand Prizes, which go to the three candidates, irrespective of district, who stand the highest at the close of the contest, August 4:
- A fully equipped, latest pattern Ford automobile, with tourabout seat, $1,000.
- Second—$500 in cash.
- Third—$350 in cash.

The McCracken county prizes are: A $400 Ward piano, sold by Hays and W. T. Miller & Bro., which will go to the candidate standing highest in the county. Then the following prizes will be alternated between the succeeding candidates in the two districts into which the county has been divided: a one hundred and fifty dollar diamond, purchased from Joe Wolf; A hundred dollar buggy, purchased from Powell-Rogers; a seventy-five dollar range purchased from Geo. O. Hart & Sons; a seventy-five dollar scholarship in The Paducah Central Business College; two fifty dollar watches, and two twenty-five dollar pieces of furniture.

Now is the time to organize. Select your allies in the campaign and band them to you before they are bound to the assistance of the other fellow.

The old Greek said:

"An old man had many sons who were always falling out with one another. He had often vainly exhorted them to live together in harmony. One day he called them around him and producing a bundle of sticks bade each of them in turn to break it across. Each put forth all his strength, but the bundle resisted all their efforts. Then cutting the cord which bound the sticks together, he told his sons to break them separately. This was done with the greatest ease. 'See, my sons,' exclaimed he, 'the power of unity. Bound together by brotherly love, you may defy almost every mortal ill; divided, you will fall a prey to your enemies.'"

If Roosevelt preached in fables instead of in modern simplified slang, that is the sort of thing he would have said when he advised one of his department chiefs to inject a little more "team work" into the business of his portion of the administration.

It's the lesson of the football team. "Get together and you will win."

That doesn't mean to combine with a ne other candidate for the purpose of splitting the proceeds of your campaign. It means to get your friends organized for YOU. It means to get all your kin folks back of you in the race. Kentuckians are not like the northern joker who said he had no friends, "Only relatives." Families stick together down here and your uncles and cousins will help you to win the Ford car if you give them half a chance.

The Thing to Do.

All Preparations For Unveiling D. A. R. Fountain in Custom House Yard Tomorrow Are Completed

Lorado Taft, Sculptor Will Arrive This Evening—Mrs. Hardy is on Her Way—Platform Erected.

All is in readiness for the dedication of the D. A. R. fountain at Fifth street and Broadway tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The stand from which the addresses will be delivered was completed this morning, while Mr. James Caldwell also completed the work of laying the concrete sidewalk this morning. Mrs. Lorado Taft, of Chicago, the sculptor, did not arrive this morning as expected, because he missed the train. He will arrive this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Metropolis Daughters of the Revolution will be represented at the dedication as a delegation will arrive on the steamer Cowling tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock and attend the exercises. One feature of the dedication will be the children's chorus. The children will be reserved a portion of Fifth street and will sing "America."

Mrs. Sallie Marshall Hardy, of Louisville, will arrive this evening and will be the guest of Mrs. E. G. Boone, 308 South Sixth street. Mrs. T. O. Jones, of Metropolis, will arrive this afternoon and will be the guest of Mrs. Paul Province, 434 South Sixth street.

Mrs. C. D. Chenault, of Lexington, state regent of the D. A. R., telegraphed Mrs. E. G. Boone today that she would be unable to come. Mrs. Chenault was on the program for a talk on the state D. A. R. work. Mrs. Chenault's telegram to Mrs. Boone says:

"Congratulations to regent and the Daughters. Sorry I can't be with you. Will write."

The Program.

The program will begin promptly at 3:30 o'clock. It is:

Patriotic airs—Deal's band.

Dedictory prayer—The Rev. G. T. Sullivan.

Patriotic address—Charles K. Wheeler.

Presentation of fountain to the city on behalf of the D. A. R. chapter—Saunders A. Fowler.

Acceptance of the fountain on behalf of the city—Mayor James P. Smith.

Address, "Art of Fountain"—Lorado Taft.

Address, "National D. A. R. Work"—Mrs. Sallie Marshall Hardy, of Louisville.

Unveiling by little Misses—Dorothy Fowler, Virginia Hart, Elizabeth Tandy, Helen Pulliam, Frances Soule and Ilex Ayres.

Mr. E. G. Boone will have charge of the program.

Beautiful Boat Spoiled

Work of putting a bulkhead on the steamer Georgia Lee so that the boat can be raised, was started today. There are two divers at work now and two more are expected to arrive tomorrow. The workmen expect to have the boat back on the ways in about two weeks. The river is falling rapidly and the mud left on the decks and in the cabin of the Lee boat is about eight inches deep. All the fine enamel white paint in the cabin has been blistered and can be scraped off. Men are at work cleaning the mud out of the cabin and state rooms and scrubbing the sides.

be made a week from Wednesday. At that time you should have gathered together a goodly bunch of votes that would put your name up among the leaders and show your kin and other friends that they will be supporting a live one when they work for you.

BAPTISTS CLOSE THEIR SESSIONS WITH BIG RALLY

Hosts Leave Louisville Today For Homes After Busy Convention.

Apportionment of Funds Among States.

DECLARE FOR TEMPERANCE

Louisville, Ky., May 18.—Firmly for prohibition, the Southern Baptist convention adjourned in this city last night after a meeting of five days. Almost the final act of the thousands of delegates from every state in the south, was the passage of a set of strong resolutions, prepared by Dr. E. E. Folk, of Nashville, Tenn., and offered by him as the report of the temperance committee. There was not a dissenting vote.

An address was made by Clinton N. Howard, prosecuting attorney of Rochester, N. Y., entitled "A Ride on the Water Wagon," after which funds were collected to aid in the work of temperance.

Appointments were made during the day session to complete the home and foreign mission boards and the report of the committee on estimates, increasing the apportionments for these boards, was adopted after its reading by Dr. J. G. Gambrell, of Texas, chairman. The states are assigned the following allotments:

Mission Allotments.

Alabama—Home missions, $24,000; foreign missions, $25,000.

Arkansas—Home missions, $13,000; foreign missions, $15,000.

District of Columbia—Home missions, $4,000; foreign missions, $6,000.

Florida—Home missions, $7,500; foreign missions, $7,500.

Georgia—Home missions, $45,000; foreign missions, $80,000.

Kentucky—Home missions, $45,000; foreign missions, $40,000.

Louisiana—Home missions, $9,000; foreign missions, $10,000.

Maryland—Home missions, $9,500; foreign missions, $12,500.

Mississippi—Home missions, $26,000; foreign missions, $36,000.

Missouri—Home missions, $21,000; foreign missions, $22,000.

North Carolina—Home missions, $25,000; foreign missions, $46,000.

Oklahoma—Home missions, $3,500; foreign missions, $3,500.

Tennessee—Home missions, $20,000; foreign missions, $27,000.

Texas—Home missions, $60,000; foreign missions, $75,000.

Virginia—Home missions, $32,000; foreign missions, $68,000.

Other Work Done.

Perhaps in addition to the powerful anti-liquor resolutions, the convention has been notable for the following accomplishments:

Raising the endowment of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary.

George Meredith Dead.

London, May 18.—George Meredith, the English novelist, died at 3:35 this morning. The immediate cause of his death was heart failure, following grave symptoms that developed early in the evening. Meredith's illness began May 14 and he had steadily declined since that time. He was 81 years old.

White House Patients

Washington, May 18.—Two patients at the white house, Mrs. Taft and Charles are reported resting comfortably today. Mrs. Taft is rapidly recovering from a nervous breakdown, suffered yesterday. Charles is expected to be up before night.

Mississippi's Run

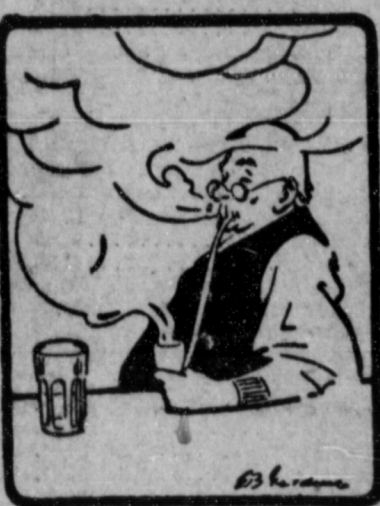

Bayou Sara, La., May 18.—The battleship Mississippi arrived here today, making the run from Baton Rouge, thirty-five miles, in two hours. It will remain two days. John Sharp Williams will be chief speaker at a reception to the ship's officers and crew, in Natchez, Saturday.

Mayor Grinstead Wins His Second Nomination

Louisville, May 18. (Special.)—The Republicans nominated Mayor Grinstead and full city ticket this morning.

Louisville, Ky., May 18. (Special.)—As expected Mayor James F. Grinstead, carried every precinct in the Republican primary yesterday and Increasing cloudiness followed by showers tonight or Wednesday, not much change in temperature. Highest temperature yesterday, 81; lowest today, 61.

Republican Insurgents Agree on Program to Put Through Income Tax Amendment to Tariff Measure

Senator Borah Leads Them and Democrats Will Join—Notify President of the Action.

Washington, May 18.—Republican insurgents and several Democrats held a meeting last night, under the leadership of Senator Borah, of Idaho, and resolved to push the income tax measure through this session. Borah called at the white house today. He informed President Taft of the action taken at the meeting.

As the result of last night's conference it is probable a substitute bill will be introduced which will be agreeable to both sides and which will have a guarantee of practically solid Democratic support as well as that of the insurgent Republicans. The new measure will be mainly based on the Bailey bill, which provides for raising about $35,000,000 annually from the income tax.

Cause of High Prices.

Washington, May 18.—The question of whether the cause of high prices for articles in the country is the tariff or the extortion of jobbers and retailers, again was discussed in the senate today. It came up in connection with the resolution introduced by Gore, of Oklahoma. Adair suggested it be referred to the finance committee. Gore suggested the appointment of a select committee to make inquiry.

Referring to the proposed tariff commission and similar bodies Senator Gore said: "These commissions are mere political lightning rods to avert from the houses of congress the thunder of political opinion." In defense of retailers he said he understood it to be the practice of manufacturers, not only to fix the price to wholesalers, but to adopt prices at which retailers should sell.

Receiver of Public Moneys.

Washington, May 18.—The president sent to the senate today the nomination of a receiver of public moneys at Woodward, Okla., the name of Charles C. Hoag, of Oklahoma.

Decision Not Far Reaching.

Washington, May 18.—The best official authority is behind the declaration that the recent commodities clause decision of the supreme court did not involve the principle of the "holding company", nor in any way suggests the probable legalizing of that method of evading the anti-trust statute, upon which rests the entire fabric of dissolution suits brought by the government against the alleged illegal monopolies. Among those quoted are the judges of court, Attorney General Wickham, and Frank B. Kellogg.

HIRAM SMEDLEY HAS ATTACK OF ILLNESS.

After a several days illness with nervousness, Hiram Smedley, who was indicted by the grand jury and is under arrest, is recovering. His physician says his illness is not serious, and expects him to be well again in a few days. During his illness he has been transferred from the main corridor to a larger cell on the second floor with a large window opening on Sixth street. Since last week Mr. Smedley has spent most of the time in bed. The cell in which he is locked is about 5x10 feet, and he has provided curtains. He has asked the jail officials not to allow anyone to see him except his lawyers. He spends much of his time reading magazines and writing letters to friends. Mrs. Smedley is a regular visitor to her husband, and every day spends several hours with him.

Illinois Deadlock

Springfield, Ill., May 18.—On the eighty-eighth senatorial ballot: Hopkins, 69; Poes, 16; Stringer, 34; Harrison, 30. Rest scattering.

Terrible Hail Storm

Uvalde, Tex., May 18.—Seven Mexicans were killed near here yesterday by hail stones, measuring from 12 to 17 inches in circumference. Many were injured, according to reports received today. Cattle were killed and crops destroyed by the hail storm. It lasted 40 minutes and crashed through roofs and ceilings of houses.

Father Goes After Body

Last night J. W. Hite, the famous Richard Hite, who was identified yesterday as the dead man in Kansas City, left to bring back the body of his son. He is expected to arrive Thursday morning and the burial probably will be held Thursday afternoon at McKendree cemetery near the boy's home at Woodville. Hite was a second cousin of Jesse and Frank James.

PRIZES AWARDED FOR IMPROVEMENT OF PRIVATE LOTS

Mrs. C. E. Purcell and N. A. Thomasson Are Given Cash.

Whittier School Wins the American Flag.

RULES GOVERNING CONTEST

Flag—Whittier Building.

- First cash prize—Mrs. C. E. Purcell, N. Fifth St.
- Second cash prize—N. A. Thomasson, 1324 Jefferson street.

The Whittier school building received the flag offered by Mayor Smith to the school making the most improvement to the premises from April 1, to May 15. Mrs. C. E. Purcell was awarded the cash prize of $35 for the best improved private premises during that time, and N. A. Thomasson, 1324 Jefferson street, the second cash prize of $15.

The committee strictly adhered to the rules governing the award, and that is why some premises, which were really more beautiful than those selected, did not receive the prizes. The prize was awarded for the most improvements made, not the most improved. Some of the premises in the contest were beautiful last year and did not need as much improvement this year. The improvements that had been made prior to April 1, 1909, did not count. Mrs. Purcell purchased an old house on North Fifth street, and greatly improved it.

Other contestants for the cash prizes were Mrs. Iverlett, 627 South Fifth street; Mrs. John Dipple, 233 South Sixth street, and North Fifth street; Mrs. J. R. Wright, North Sixth street; Mrs. Mable Brooks, 2220 Jefferson street. If the contest had been for the most attractive premises it would have been difficult for the committee to choose.

The committee, consisting of Miss Adine Morton, Miss Elizabeth Sinnott and Mrs. Charles Kiger, accompanied by City Auditor Kirkland and Street Inspector Ernest Bell, inspected the premises of the contestants yesterday afternoon and awarded the prize this morning.

The Second Prize.

The Whittier building, of South Twelfth street, which won the flag, came in for a great measure of praise from everybody, and Superintendent Carnagey will send the janitors of the other buildings out there to see the premises, as a model for all to go by. The janitor, the teachers and the pupils, all had a hand in winning the prize. The pupils voluntarily gather up every bit of trash and waste paper they see scattered about; they have taken turns carrying flowers to school, and by private subscription have secured a number of trees. The building is sanitary from top to bottom, and the whitewashing in the basement resembles white paint, so well is it applied. Professor Donovan is principal, and the teachers are Miss Adamson, Miss Boudles and Miss Wilson. The Lee and McKipley buildings deserved special mention for their appearance and neatness.

The committee were especially impressed with a card that hangs on the wall of the Whittier building that was signed by each pupil, pledging himself not to destroy a bird's nest or a bird or injure an animal, and to strive in every way to beautify his school and to add to the civic beauty of Paducah.

The committee awarded the flag yesterday and the prizes for the best improved premises were given this afternoon by Mrs. Charles Kiger and Miss Elizabeth Sinnott, who carried the mayor's checks for the amount.

I. C. Improves Property.

At the instance of the committee of ladies in charge of the cleaning up contest, the Illinois Central is grading its lot at the southwest corner of Eleventh street and Broadway, and will plant flowers there, besides painting the old freight house, now used as a tobacco prize house. When the lease expires, two years hence, it is understood the building will be torn away.

At Riverside.

The Hospital league has secured the dirt for flower beds at Riverside and the flowers have been planted there, greatly beautifying the premises.

MISS LUCY OVERBEY IS MUCH IMPROVED TODAY.

Miss Lucy Overbey is improved today at the Riverside hospital. Dr. John A. Gains, of Nashville, a noted surgeon, arrived last night and has been in consultation with the attending physicians today.

TRIPLE COLLISION.

Chicago, May 18.—Fifteen were injured, one fatally, in a triple collision on the elevated railroad here today. A local train was standing at a station when a south-bound express crashed into the rear. The third express train from the north crashed into the second train.

Pugilistic Bouts.

Schenectady, N. Y., May 18.—"Fighting Dick" Nelson bested "Young" Corbett. He landed at will and chased Corbett all around the ring.

Smith Whips Donovan.

Columbus, O., May 18.—"Thunderbolt" Ed Smith, of Columbus, was declared the victor in a six round bout with Mike Donovan, of Rochester, N. Y.

Flies Flags at Half Mast.

The steamer Clyde is flying her flags at half-mast today out of respect for Mrs. Mary E. Beard, whose funeral was held this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Beard has two sons who are pilots on the steamer Shiloh, which is one of the St. Louis & Tennessee River Packet company boats. The Clyde belongs to the same company.

JOHN COLLIER, FATHER OF MRS. T. B. ORR, DIES.

News was received today by Mrs. T. B. Orr, 1255 South Seventh street, of the death of her father, Mr. John Collier, 68 years old, this morning at 4:15 o'clock, at St. Lamesa, Cal. Mr. Collier had been in bad health for many months and his condition had been serious for some time. Besides Mrs. Orr, one daughter, Mrs. Robert Agnew, of St. Lamesa, survives. The funeral and burial will take place in California. Mr. Collier removed from Paducah ten years ago. Mrs. Orr was at his bedside until several weeks ago. She will not attend the burial.

New Park Commissioner

Mayor James P. Smith today announced the appointment of Mr. Joseph L. Friedman to the board of park commissioners to succeed Mr. A. S. Thompson, resigned. Mr. Friedman has always been one of Paducah's most progressive citizens, interested in civic improvement, and Mayor Smith said when he named Mr. Friedman that he believed he was adding another working member to the board.

REDUCING NUMBER OF TRUSTEES OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Following the adjournment of the school board last night, the trustees devoted much time to a discussion of getting the co-operation of the other second class cities in an effort to have the school board reduced from twelve to five members. Superintendent Carnagey reported that at the recent educational meeting in Bowling Green he had talked with school officials concerning the reduction. At present the educational commission, which was appointed at the last legislature to revise the school laws, is at work on the school laws for cities of the first class.

The work will be completed soon, and the commission will begin a revision of the laws for second class cities. The committee promised to notify the cities when the work will begin, and it is possible that Covington, Newport and Paducah will send delegations to appear before the committee. Last night a resolution was read by Secretary Arch Sutherland, and this was signed by the school trustees. Signatures of former board members will be secured, and sent to the commission. So far Lexington has not expressed any intention of fighting for the reduction, but Covington and Newport are heartily in favor of the smaller school board.

TWO ASSEMBLIES OF PRESBYTERIANS

Will Convene in South in Short Time.

Southern General Assembly and Cumberland General Assembly Meetings.

THEIR PRINCIPAL FEATURES.

Savannah, Ga., May 18.—The general assembly of the Presbyterian church will be held in the First Presbyterian church in this city from May 20 to May 29, inclusive. In connection with this meeting will be held the quadricentennial celebration of the birth of John Calvin, the founder of the Presbyterian church. The joint assembly will bring to Savannah something like 300 delegates. They will come not alone from many points in the United States but from foreign countries.

The general assembly is the highest court in the Presbyterian church and brings together something like 250 or 300 of the ablest ministers and most prominent laymen in the south as its delegates. In addition to the delegates there are usually a large number who attend the assembly as visitors. This year, however, it is expected there will be a larger attendance than usual because of the observance of the birth of the great protestant leader. Much of the time of the convention will be taken up with the discussion of the subject of missions and the raising of a million-dollar mission fund during the coming year. The unofficial congress of Presbyterian laymen recently held at Birmingham, Ala., which made this work a feature of their meeting, has greatly stimulated the efforts of the Presbyterians along this line. The assembly will formulate plans for rushing this work to completion and will appoint committees to see that the sum is raised.

The assembly will convene at 11 a. m. May 20, with Rev. W. W. Moore D. D., of Richmond, Va., presiding as moderator. He will deliver the opening sermon at that hour. At 9 o'clock that night there will be an address by Dr. Charles Merle d'Aubigne, of Noyally-sur-Seine, France, his subject being "Calvin the Man and His Times."

Meetings of Committees.

The afternoon will be devoted largely to meetings of committees and the morning and evening to the general work of the assembly.

Those chosen to make addresses in connection with the Calvin celebration in addition to the visiting French men and the subjects they will have are as follows:

Friday, May 21, at noon Dr. R. C. Reed, Columbia, S. C., "Calvin's Contribution to the Reformation."

Friday, May 21, 9 p. m., Dr. Henry Collins Hilton, Trenton, N. J., "Calvin the Theologian."

Saturday, May 22, noon, Dr. T. C. Johnson, Richmond, Va., "Calvin's Contribution to Church Polity."

Monday, May 24, at noon, Dr. James Orr, Glasgow, Scotland, "Calvin's Attitude Towards and Exegesis of Scripture."

Monday, May 24, 9 p. m., Dr. R. A. Webb, Louisville, Ky., "Calvin's Doctrine of Infant Salvation."

Tuesday, May 25, at noon, Dr. S. L. Morris, Atlanta, Ga., "Relation of Calvin and Calvinism to Missions."

Tuesday, May 25, 9 p. m., Edwin A. Alderman, University of Virginia, "Calvin's Contribution to Educational Progress."

Wednesday, May 26, at noon, Hon. Frank T. Glasgow, Lexington, Va., "Calvin's Influence Upon the Political Influence of the World."

Wednesday, May 26, 9 p. m., Dr. S. A. King, Austin, Tex., "How Far Has the Original Calvinism Been Modified by Time?"

Causes and Significance, Thursday, May 27, noon, Dr. Deib, B. Warfield, Princeton, N. J., "Pres-

Frail Women Aided Free

The woman who is by nature not robust cannot be too careful of her health. The foundation of all health is in the stomach. Without good digestion the body is not nourished, and then soon becomes feeble and weak. In order to have good digestion regular bowel movement is absolutely necessary, and it is at this point that so many women neglect themselves. In any of these conditions you cannot do better than to take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the remedy that thousands of delicate women are using. It is the great family laxative, and in addition to its wonderful power to cure chronic constipation and chronic indigestion, it contains tonic properties that strengthen the stomach muscles so that in time they will work naturally again without the aid of medicine.

Any druggist will sell you a bottle for the small sum of 50 cents, though persons who have used the remedy before and know what it is buy the 50 cent bottle. Amanda Brandon, of Alvarado, Va., who is 68 and feeble, uses it regularly and speaks in the highest praise of it. Esther Fine, of Marion, Ind., is also an enthusiast of this wonderful remedy and she wished she had the fortune to tell the whole world about it. Both these ladies, as well as hundreds of others we could name, first became acquainted with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin through the doctor's offer to send any sufferer a free test bottle direct to the home.

He will send you or any other sufferer a sample bottle free of charge on receipt of your name and address. It is wonderfully effective in the stomach troubles of children and babies, girls entering the period of menstruation and old folks, all of whom need a gentle laxative.

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 507 Caldwell bldg., Monticello, Ill.

ent-Day Attitude Towards Calvinism; Its Cause and Significance."

Thursday, May 27, 9 p. m., Dr. A. M. Fraser, Staunton, Va., "How May the Principle of Calvinism be Rendered Most Effective Under Modern Conditions?"

Officers of Assembly.

The officers of the assembly are: Inviting Moderator, Rev. W. W. Moore, D. D., Richmond, Va.; Stated Clerk, Rev. W. A. Alexander, Clarksville, Tenn.; Permanent Clerk, Rev. Thomas H. Law, D. D., Spartanburg, S. C.

An interesting incident in connection with the meeting of the assembly will be the presentation to the moderator at the first service of an historic gavel made of wood from St. Peter's cathedral of Geneva, with which Calvin was closely associated.

The gavel is made from the part of a beam from the belfry of the church. It represents four ionic columns with a profile likeness of Calvin on one side and the famous Calvin seal and heart on another. Still another side is a bronze plate suitably inscribed. The gavel is hand carved. The wood left from the beam after the gavel was cut out has been made in thin strips and attached to pieces of American wood. Upon these have been printed pictures of Calvin and St. Peter's cathedral. These will be presented to the delegates as souvenirs.

Cumberland Presbyterian.

Bentonville, Ark., May 18.—During the present week men prominent in Presbyterian affairs will gather at Bentonville from many sections of the United States, to have a part in the third general assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, that section which refused to enter into the amalgamation of the Cumberland church with the Presbyterian church of the United States, more popularly known as the Northern Presbyterian church, which was brought about three years ago. While the Cumberland church is strongest in the central south and southwest, and from these states the greatest number of delegates will come, Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania and the western states, as far as California, will send representatives.

First Session Thursday.

The initial session will be on Thursday, the meeting to extend over six days. The Denominational Ladies' Missionary society, an auxiliary organization, will be in session at the same time.

It is planned to bring matters of vital import to the church before the assembly. The principal theme, however, will be the controversy between the Cumberland church and those who entered the union as to property rights of the differing organizations, a controversy which is now having its day in court in several states. While it is possible that an effort may be made to arrange a compromise this is hardly probable. It is more likely that plans will be laid for a continuation of the contest more vigorously than ever.

As now constituted the Cumberland church is composed of approximately 125,000 communicants. To represent this number about 350 delegates will be in attendance at the assembly.

Love's Young Dream.

The Girl—Why, George says we are going to live at the same hotel where he lives now.

The Parent—Don't you know it costs a great deal to live at a hotel?

The Girl—Why, no, papa, it won't cost any more. George says that if you know how to order, one portion is ample for two persons. It really won't be the least bit of a burden on George, papa.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Ned—So it turned out that the prisoner was really insane.

Ted—Yes. He lost his mind trying to follow the hypothetical question put to him by the prosecuting attorney.—Brooklyn Life.

TEACHERS GIVEN HIGHER SALARIES

School Board Elects Present Corps Again.

President Hills Reports That By Economy the Deficit Has Been Reduced.

WILL BE JUST TEN THOUSAND

Discussions of the advisability of increasing the salaries of the public school teachers brought forth plenty of speeches last night at the adjourned meeting of the school board. The board finally voted to accept the report of the committee on teachers, which gave some of the teachers slight increases in their salary. With the salary question disposed of the board re-elected all the present teachers unanimously. While the increases are slight with the exception of four teachers, increases were given to all teachers, who receive under $50 a month.

Increases of salary were left with the committee on teachers, which is composed of Trustees Ferguson, Kelly and Clements and its report was read to the board.

An amendment was offered to the motion to receive the report by excluding the increased salaries. Trustee Jacobs said he was in favor of increasing teachers receiving $40 by increasing salary $5 a month, and those receiving under $50 a month by increasing the salary $2.50 a month, while teachers receiving over $50 a month should not be given advances now. This seemed to be the spirit of the majority.

Vice President Winstead took the chair and President Hills made a short argument in favor of increased salaries. He discussed the increases from the point of view of justice, the interest of the public schools of Paducah and the possibilities of the school board. President Hills said that four teachers had been done an injustice last year by not receiving increases, and that he did not consider that the public schools were receiving sufficient salary. He considered the young teachers the most valuable asset to the schools, and thought they should receive increases to encourage them to educate themselves.

In his speech he reviewed the financial condition of the school. Last year the schools closed with a debt of about $18,000. This year the board is obligated for the sum of $25,000, but the schools will be closed with a debt of only $10,000 as compared with $18,000 last year. The board is given assistance by the payment of money due on back taxes, and can pay off the debt in July. President Hills expressed himself as fearing some of the older teachers would resign, and he said the younger teachers would not be encouraged if some salaries were not increased. On roll call the report of the committee with the increase of salary passed, with Trustees Clements and Winstead voting "nay."

Teachers Elected:

The teachers were elected: Adah Brazelton, assistant high school principal for girls; Marian P. Noble, Edna McLaughlin, Ernestine Alms, Anna Bird Stewart, Elizabeth Graham, Emma Acker, Kate White, Mary Brazelton, Ernestine Lewellyn, Ruth Hall, Fannie C. Leddra, Myrtle Knight, Anna B. Larkin, Annabel Acker, Blanche Ingram, Catherine Thomas, Katherine Powell, Ethel Hawkins, Floyd Swift, Belle Ford, Lillian Cook, Addie Byrd, Lena H. Ham, Mollie B. Stevenson, Minnie Jones, Inez Bell, Ellen Wilcox, Lillian Burdine, Hattie Sherwin, Frances Clark, Jennie Sloan, Ella Larkin, May Ellis, Laura Thomas, Addie Goheen, Emma Mayer, Blanche Mooney, Elsie Howiescher, Ethel Mitchell, Rose Flournoy, Lucy Scott, Clare Winston, Bessie Kames, Mabel Roberts, Mabel Mitchell, Elizabeth Singleton, Flora McKee, Pannie Taylor, Susan Atchison, Hannah Bonds, Ollie Wilson, Lulye Beadles and Jeanon Adamson.

The place of science teacher and assistant high school principal of the boys, and of assistant science teacher were left with Superintendent Carnagey to fill. The salary for the grammar school principal of the Washington school was increased and Superintendent Carnagey will endeavor to select a man for the position. To fill vacancies in the teaching corps: Miss Eudoyce Treadway, Miss Mabel C. Mitchell and Miss Elizabeth Caldwell were elected. Miss Mary Bondurant was recommended as substitute teacher.

The following colored teachers were elected: Naomi B. Spencer, Callie Murphy, Sallie V. Lowery, Mattie O. Anderson, Ezekiel Grundy, Minnie B. Hall, Lula B. Davis, Rena M. Machen, Maggie Merchant, Joe L. Hamilton, Ruth Scurry, Georgia Jones, Laura L. Hibbs, Rosena Maple, Maggie V. Pearson.

All teachers were elected subject to the required physical examination, and to the required scholastic examination, which will be held August 26 and 27. The assigning of all teachers to buildings is left with the superintendent. The teachers' committee recommended the continuation of the cadet class to train young teachers.

By voting to give the teachers an increase the expenditure for salaries will be $581.78 greater each year. Last year $3,691.26 was paid out monthly as salary, while next year it will be $3,752.50. The white teachers will receive $3,147.50, while the col-

Leave of Absence.

Miss Margaret Acker, a teacher in the departmental work, was given leave of absence for a year, and her action was commended by the board. Miss Acker will complete her studies in the state normal school. Superintendent Carnagey submitted the following report:

"I submit the request of Miss Margaret Acker for leave of absence for one year in order that she may attend school to prepare herself further for her work. I wish to recommend favorable action upon her request and also that you in an official way commend her action. Her letter gives her reasons for wishing to spend a year in further preparation.

"I wish to commend her and to say that not only in Paducah but in every other place home applicants could find it of incalculable value to themselves and the schools if they were always willing to prepare themselves for their work as well as when they expect to go elsewhere. Home applicants, everything else being equal should be given preference over others, but when they are not equal they should not expect to get positions simply because of home surroundings and influence. If they secure positions where they are not known they must expect to win and hold these positions on merit. Then why should the home schools anywhere have to take poorly prepared candidates when others more competent can be secured.

"It is for these reasons that I wish to commend the action of Miss Acker to other young people who wish to prepare themselves to take positions of responsibility in the schools or in other lines of work."

Other Business.

President Hills reported that many of the clocks in the school rooms were in bad repair, and he suggested that they be repaired by the board. He said that to teach the children to be prompt, and on time was one of the most valuable lessons in life, and he thought for the schools to have inaccurate clocks is bad policy. One jeweler has offered to furnish the schools with clocks and keep them in repair provided he be given permission to use his advertisement, but this is against the rules. The board favored placing a self-regulating clock in the halls and then having a good reliable clock in each school room. The matter was referred to the supply committee, which will visit jewelers and make a report at the next meeting.

Fred Hoyer was re-elected as superintendent of buildings by a unanimous vote of the board. His term of office will expire August 1. The board decided to offer tickets to the commencement for sale by the children in an effort to make the commencement self-sustaining this year.

Present at the meeting last night were: Trustees Hills, Clements, Fer-

Daily Thought.

"Nagging people are always praying for peace in glory."

Reports say there is plenty of water in the Mississippi for the battleship on its way to Natchez, which is very fortunate, as both banks are dry.

Mrs. Crane is leaving a trail of Kentucky officials, who are trying to reconcile her criticisms with recent grand jury reports.

REMEMBERING THOSE WHO FEEL.

Morbid sentiment, it seems to us, is the idea of the national committee for the relief of the unemployed to decorate graves of those who took their own lives in the grip of desperate poverty. But that is one way of bringing home to the world the lesson of the badly readjusted social and economic system. Impoverishment accounts for much of the misery, but not all of it. Let us not judge too harshly those who go down in life's battle. Most of us have at one time or another paused, and asked "what's the use of it all?" Some have paused too long and too often. We are not beasts of the jungle, and while the law of the survival of the fittest may apply, it is our duty to make all fit to survive; for every man has his work to do, and what is fitness and what is survival are sometimes misunderstood by the strongest of us. Cain inquired: "Am I my brother's keeper?" Maybe some well meaning, but apparently visionary people, are leading us towards the answer to this question, confounding the wise with their foolishness.

TRIUMPH OF WRITTEN LAW.

The conviction of Captain Peter Hains of manslaughter, for the killing of Annis, destroyer of his home, marks the decline of the unwritten law and the insanity defenses in murder cases. The same error was made in this case, to be sure, that was made in the Thaw case. The defense relied on two incompatible pleas: one that Hains was sane enough to realize the injury to Annis had done and to avenge it, and the other that he was crazy and slew Annis in a homicidal frenzy. He lost the sympathy of the public by his double plea, and by the method of his crime, taking his brother along. The killing of Annis was in cold blood, although we are not saying Annis did not deserve what he got. No one appointed Peter Hains and his brother to kill Annis, monster though he may have been. The pity is that Hains' brother got off scot free.

A MAN'S PLATFORM.

Col. Grantland Rice, of the Nashville Tennessean, has, after much thought and many heats, given out the following:
 "We hereby announce our candidacy for the office of mayor of this city, the same to be based upon the following platform, which we would like to put before the voters of Nashville:
 "1. No ladies allowed upon the street car between the hours of 12 and 1:30 p. m., nor between the hours of 5 to 6:30 p. m.
 "2. All bills for hats, millinery, etc., that exceed $11 void under the law, and not subject to collection.

"3. No female to have over one hat or one dress until her spouseless lesser half has amassed at least one fairly respectable 'lid,' and at least one suit of clothes that can be worn at a dog fight without explanation as to the 'wearer having delayed purchase of spring style,' etc.

"4. Full reference for and chivalry to all ladies, but not to be unkind of the fact that Man was the first animal upon this planet, and that it wasn't his fault that the human race was turned out of Eden to graze at large."

That preacher, who said it was not James Parrish, but God, who wrecked the Owensboro bank, probably was referring to the inscrutable ways of Providence, that play round and through all human activities, and Jim need not lie awake nights, waiting for the fulfillment of the Owensboro inquirer's prophecy that maybe he will be delivered from the Hawesville jail like Paul and Silas. By the way, wonder where Editor May heard about that incident of Paul and Silas.

SOME STORIES AROUND TOWN

Col. John J. Dorian has decided to make the race for the Republican nomination for judge of the police court of Paducah. His friends in the Republican party have assured him that he will win the nomination, and as he is popular with the Democrats also, it is believed his election will follow. After election day his acquaintances will drop the military title and salute him as Judge Dorian.

WANT TAFT TO STOP CLOCKS.

Movement to Extend the Daylight Schedule.

Washington, May 18.—President Taft promised to take up with his cabinet tomorrow the International question of more daylight.

A delegation from Cincinnati representing the National Daylight association called upon the president and requested him to take the initiative in the reform movement directed against the clock. The idea of the movement is to begin the day two hours earlier during the summer time to give longer hours for afternoon and evening recreation. It is proposed that on the first of each May the clock shall be turned back two hours, the readjustment to remain in effect until October 1, when with the later rising of the sun the clock shall again be turned forward to the present standard time.

It was explained to the president that little progress could be made in the direction desired by the association without the support of the national government.

PORT SORTER FUSSY

TALKS OUT IN MEETING ABOUT EWING'S AIM.

What the General Manager is Getting From the Association and Wants a Lot More.

Intimating that Felix G. Ewing, general manager of the association, "was vaccinated for a Moses and it didn't take, and that he ran for a Solomon and got left at the post," Joel B. Fort is out in an extensive card, replying to Ewing's intimation that the association orator was sore because he had lost his job.

Says Mr. Fort, who, by the way, is a brother of President Charles H. Fort.

"I never asked a single member to retain me, or pay me a cent. The general manager can't say as much. Every single cent that was ever paid me by the association was given without my asking. The general manager can't say as much. Under such circumstances it were puerile to descend to the low plain of slum politics, and charge that since my salary was at his suggestion discontinued, 'the world to me had not seemed the same,' and all too for no other reason than that I criticized his policies.

"I had known that the president and the governor and all public officials were opened to criticism, but I had not stopped to think that the general manager, Felix Grundy Ewing, wrapped in the mantle of his own sanctity and perfection, was above criticism.

"May I be permitted by his Lordship's indulgence to add that while he was in the hospital in New York the board was asked to give him five thousand dollars, and that it was cheerfully given; that when he returned he asked to be placed on a salary and was given five thousand dollars per annum and his expenses; that at the last meeting of the board in October his salary was kept at five thousand dollars and a stenographer and expenses; that only a few days ago he had sixteen members of the board pledged to increase his salary to ten thousand dollars and expenses and that he saw that it was not an 'opportune time' to make the increase, and arose and had the matter dropped. Dropped to await the 'opportune time.' I would suppose, where I did not ask one hundred and fifty per month, he asked and received five thousand dollars per annum and was clamoring for ten thousand dollars when that 'opportune time' stepped in and spoiled the whole 'kettle of fish.' If $150 per month made a change in the world to me will he not do us the kindness to tell us how beautifully his future was decorated with a ten thousand dollar lining.

"Of a truth is not the Planter's Protective association, of all the corporations on earth 'general managed' to a 'queen's taste?' Look at this list: General manager's salary, $5,000 and expenses; stenographer's salary, $600; assistant general manager (east) salary $3,000 and expenses; assistant general manager's (middle) salary, $3,000 and expenses; assistant general manager's (west) salary, $3,000 and expenses; $14,600, and say $6,000 for expenses.

"So you see that our 'general managing' is now costing us about $20,000 per annum till the 'opportune time' and then it will cost us five thousand more. Where will you find another corporation so thoroughly and expensively general managed? It reminds one of Abraham Lincoln's steam boat. The whistle was so large and the boiler so small that when the whistle blew it stopped the boat. We should arrange at least so the general manager can blow his whistle at me, without stopping the boat."—New Era.

Folk Reports on Temperance.

Following is the report of the committee on temperance which was read by E. E. Folk, of Nashville, Tenn.:

There is expended in this country every year for strong drink something over $2,000,000,000. Among the results of this traffic in intoxicating liquors are the loss of 100,000 lives each year, 95 per cent of the murders in the country, 75 per cent of all crimes, 75 per cent of divorces and 40 per cent of insanity. With such results can anyone expect the followers of Christ to sit by and see this traffic continue without offering any protest against that traffic and doing everything to destroy it?

Whosoever may so expect simply does not understand the genius of Christianity, whose fundamental policy is extirpation of the bad, as well as the upbuilding of the good.

To the task of destroying this traffic, that it may no longer be, as it has been, the greatest obstacle to the progress of the kingdom of our Lord, the churches of Christ have consecrated themselves and will never cease their efforts until every vestige of the accursed traffic is abolished from our land.

Drive Out Liquor for Good.

We are glad to report that six of the fifteen states comprising the territory of this convention have already abolished the traffic entirely from their borders, while all the others have abolished it from a large proportion of their territory. We confidently expect the time to come soon when every vestige of this liquor traffic shall be abolished from every part of every state in the bonds of the convention.

That the traffic and especially its concrete representative, the saloon, has no place in a civilized community no business in a Christian country. It is an anachronism, a barbarism. From a moral, religious, scientific, economical and political standpoint, a parasite, a nuisance, the center of all vice, the radiating point of all evil influences, the breathing hole of the devil, a monster of injustice, iniquity and impurity.

The saloon has sinned away its day of grace if it ever had any and now the time has come when the saloon must go.

Three Forms of Temperance.

But how? Temperance means three things:

First, the moderation of that which is good.

Second, total abstinence from that which is bad.

Third, helping others to abstain. We may help others in two ways—by moral suasion and by legal suasion. Moral suasion means keeping the boy out of the way of temptation. Legal suasion means keeping temptation out of the way of the boy. While it is a good thing to keep the boy out of the way of temptation, it is a better thing to keep temptation out of the way of the boy.

To the end that liquor traffic may be abolished, we recommend: First, that we cordially commend the effective work of the anti-saloon league and other organizations seeking the suppression of the traffic and give to them our co-operation and support to the extent of our ability.

Vote for No Liquor Men.

Second, that we again respectfully but earnestly request the proper officials of our national government not to issue privilege taxes for the sale of liquor where its sale is prohibited by the laws of the state.

Third, that we urge our senators and representatives in congress to pass some further and more effective measure besides the amendment to the penal code bill adopted by the last congress to prevent the shipment of liquor into dry territory.

Fourth, that a standing committee on temperance be appointed to report at the next session of the convention and that a report on the subject be made part of the regular order of business of the convention.

Fifth, that we urge people everywhere not to vote for any one for any office who is known to be in sympathy with the liquor traffic.

God hasten the day when the traffic shall be completely abolished from our southland, our country and from all the world. Edgar E. Folk, S. P. Brooks, C. W. Daniel, J. B. Gambrell, L. C. Wolfe, W. T. Amis, W. D. Upshaw, B. G. Lowrey, H. A. Sumrall.

Mission Subscription.

In the session it was announced that the total apportionments for the home mission were raised from $325,000 to $343,500 and the total for foreign missions from $500,000, to $550,000.

Dr. Dodd Returns.

The Rev. M. E. Dodd, pastor of the First Baptist church, returned last night from Louisville, where he attended the session of the Southern Baptist convention. Dr. Dodd was honored at the meeting by being appointed vice-president of the home

SAMUEL REEB

DIES AT HOPKINSVILLE AFTER LONG ILLNESS.

Well Known Steamboat Engineer and K. P. Will Be Buried Tomorrow.

Mr. Samuel Reeb, of this city, died yesterday afternoon at Hopkinsville, where he was taken about seven months ago. The body of Mr. Reeb will be brought to this city this afternoon on the 4:15 o'clock train and will be taken to his home, 712 South Third street. Mr. Reeb was 39 years old and had been a resident of this city 15 years. He came to this city from Golconda, where he was reared. He was a licensed steamboat engineer and for many years was on the boats that ran out of the Paducah harbor. He was a well known riverman and had a large number of friends. He is survived by his wife and five children, who live at 712 South Third street. Mr. Reeb also is survived by one sister, Mrs. George Rupertus, of this city, and two brothers, Dan Reeb, of Paducah, and Henry Reeb, of Golconda.

Mr. Reeb had been a member of the German Lutheran church for a number of years. He was also a member of the Knights of Pythias and the Marine Engineers' association. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the German Lutheran church. The Rev. William Grother will officiate. At the grave the Knights of Pythias will take charge and the order will carry out the ritualistic funeral ceremony.

GETS LABEL DAMAGES.

Temperance Woman's Picture Printed in Whisky Testimonial.

Washington, May 18.—The case of Elizabeth Peck versus the Chicago Tribune company, involving a charge of libel by Mrs. Peck against the Tribune company because of the publication of her portrait as part of an advertisement endorsing a certain brand of whisky, was decided by the supreme court of the United States in favor of Mrs. Peck and against the company. Justice Holmes announced the decision of the court.

It appeared from the record in the case that Mrs. Peck was a resident of Iowa and a temperance advocate. Her picture was printed over another name, that of a nurse, and she was quoted in strong indorsement of the whisky. Holding that the publication represented Mrs. Peck, notwithstanding the use of another name, Justice Holmes said:

"Many might recognize the plaintiff's face without recognizing her name, and those who did know might be led to infer that she had sanctioned the publication under an alias."

He also held that even though the publication had been made by mistake, the publisher was not relieved from responsibility. "If the publication was libelous the defendant took the risk."

STEAMER DICK FOWLER

For the first time the Steamer Dick Fowler will run an afternoon excursion to Fort Massac, Metropolis and Joppa, leaving the wharf at 2 p. m., stopping at Fort Massac,

It is to the men who do not care to pay over $20.00 for a suit that the above model appeals with force. Fortunate in securing some splendid values in fabrics, we took them to one of the makers of our best lines and had them cut, and finished by their best tailors with the result that it is the STRONG-EST $20.00 line to be found anywhere.

RAILROAD NOTES

Engine 1940, pulling the morning Cairo passenger train, was delayed an hour by a spring breaking. Another engine was secured at Cairo. No damage was done by the accident. The office in the round house has been painted and made as bright as a new pin. Also the desks in the office have been changed and made more convenient.

Traveling Engineer Lloyd Grimes of the Tennessee division, was in Paducah today on business.

J. B. Alvey, assistant train dispatcher, of Fulton, was in Paducah today.

The old freight station at Eleventh street and Broadway is being painted, and when completed the old building will present a much neater appearance.

About 75 people left Paducah this morning at 9:30 o'clock for Memphis on the excursion from Cairo to Memphis. The special train arrived from Cairo and went to Memphis by way of Fulton.

Owing to the almost universal adoption of the telephone system for running trains it is almost impossible for railroads to secure material for building the systems. The Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad has decided to supplant the telegraph with the telephone, but the manufacturers are so busy filling orders that it will be a year at least before any material can be delivered. The construction work of the telephone system on the Illinois Central railroad has been delayed by the failure to secure material, although the work on the Tennessee division will be completed in a few days, and the train will be operated by the telephone. The cost of installing the system is high as it is necessary to use copper wire, but when once installed it is more economical than telegraph, besides the saving in time.

Attention, Knights of Pythias

All members of Paducah Lodge, No. 26, Knights of Pythias, are ordered to meet at Castle Hall, corner Fifth and Broadway, at 2:30 p. m., Wednesday for the purpose of attending the funeral of Bro. Sam Reeb, at the German Lutheran church.

PRESCRIPTION BY WIRELESS.

Physician at Sea Attends Wealthy Chicago Woman.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 18.—Although Dr. Otto Marburg, of New York, has been at sea since last Saturday, he sent advice by wireless to his patient, Mrs. P. T. Felman, of Chicago, at the Bellevue Stratford today.

At 8:50 o'clock Mrs. Felman sent the following message to Dr. Marburg in care of the liner Amerika: "I am faint, sinking feeling about the heart, numbness. What shall I do?"—P. T. Felman.

The answer flashed back to the wireless station in the tower of Bellevue Stratford at 3:05 o'clock. It was: "Follow diet prescribed before sailing. All will be O. K.—O. D. Marburg."

Mrs. Felman paid $10.30 to the operator and said she felt much better. A short time later she boarded a train for Chicago.

Stoessel Released.

St. Petersburg, May 18.—Yielding to the insistent demand of a large part of the Russian public, the czar today ordered the release from Forts Peter and Paul of Admiral Nebogatoff and General Stoessel, who are undergoing life imprisonment. The former for the surrender of his ships to the Japanese in the battle of the Sea of Japan, and the latter for the surrender of Port Arthur. Both are in failing health.

Photographing Drivers.

Chicago, May 18.—The photographing of non-union carriage drivers was the feature of the cabmen's strike which developed here yesterday. Ten photographers were posted at various cemeteries to snap shot the reinsmen who had taken the places of the strikers. "We want the pictures for publication in union papers, and so we will recognize the originals later," explained a labor leader.

Messina Overwhelmed.

Messina, May 18.—Owing to the discontinuance of public relief to the earthquake sufferers thousands of victims are pouring into Messina at an alarming rate. They have been sheltered throughout Sicily and southern Italy. An increased population of 30,000 is threatened within a few days. Local authorities are imploring the government to take some remedial steps.

Attempted Assassination.

Tabriz, May 18.—Positive proof was found today that yesterday's explosion of gun powder under the house of Satar Khan, leader of the revolutionary forces, was a deliberate attempt at assassination. It failed because Satar was away. The building was destroyed. Four occupants were killed and seven severely injured.

A Grave Mistake.

"So you're feeling perfectly well again, and never touched the medicine I gave you, eh? You made a grave mistake, Mrs. Tibbs, a grave mistake."

"How so, doctor?"
"Why, if you'd taken my medicine you'd have known what cured you, and as it is you haven't the least idea."—Life.

S.S.S. CURES OLD SORES

If an old sore existed simply because the flesh was diseased at that particular spot, it would be an easy matter to apply some remedy directly to the place that would kill the germs; or the diseased flesh might be removed by a surgical operation and a cure effected. But the very fact that old sores resist every form of local or external treatment, and even return after being cut away, shows that back of them is a morbid cause which must be removed before a cure can result. Just as long as the pollution continues in the blood, the ulcer remains an open cesspool for the deposit of impurities which the circulation throws off. S.S.S. cures Old Sores by purifying the blood. It removes every trace of impurity and taint from the circulation, and thus completely does away with the cause. When S.S.S. has cleansed the blood, the sore begins to heal, and it is not a surface cure, but the healing process begins at the bottom; soon the discharge ceases, the inflammation leaves, and the place fills in with firm, healthy flesh. Under the purifying and tonic effects of S.S.S. the system is built up, and those whose health has been impaired by the drain and worry of an old sore will be doubly benefited by its use. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

STRAWBERRY CROP.

Adverse weather conditions have had their effect on the strawberry crop, and the big, luscious berries are precious as their weight in gold. In fact there are few of the berries of any size, and the admirers of the berries must be content with the smaller size, for even the berries that are shipped into Paducah are inferior in quality. Weather conditions since last summer are attributed as the cause for the shortage, as usually Paducah raises enough strawberries to supply the demand, and frequently orders have been filled.

In speaking of the shortage a dealer said: "Last summer's drought is largely responsible for the short crop. Several of the farmers who had many acres planted in strawberries did not get a berry this year because their plants were burned up last summer in the drought. What berries did stand the hot temperature were set back by the extreme cold weather this spring.

"Just about the time the berries were getting a large size the weather turned cold, and the berries became faulty, and were prevented from growing to the usual size. Then the heavy rains set the berries back about the time they were recuperating from the cold weather. Now it is too late for the berries to come again, and the strawberry short cake fiends will have to go without this year.

"Not only Paducah but also the Tennessee berries are not up to the standard this year. Today I received a shipment of berries from west Tennessee and they were not much better than the home berry. Even the berries in the extreme south were affected by the cold weather in the spring. Looks like it was just one of those years in which the strawberry was not to thrive."

Breakfast is the proper place to call the roll.

IT FAIL AGAIN TO LOWER PRICE

Bear Movement Unsuccessful in Wheat Pit.

Practically No Receipts at Chicago Market—Corn Attracts Chief Interest of Traders.

BULLS HAVE THE UPPER HAND

Chicago, May 18.—Local wheat traders have about convinced themselves that the weal or woe of the wheat crop in Kansas is about all there is to the market at present. The Sunflower state as well as parts of Oklahoma and Nebraska had copious rains during the last week, but the bears had hardly established themselves in the conviction that prices were due for a smashing break when buying started on a scale that worried the bears and shorts and the expected slump, due to the breaking of the drought, failed to put in an appearance.

July wheat sold down to $1.11 1/2 at one time last week, but despite persistent hammering the price was at $1.14 at the close of the market on Friday, and the net loss for the week was held down to 1 cent. May was practically unchanged as compared with the previous week, while September lost 1/2 cent and December declined 1 1/2 cents.

Statistically the week's developments were decidedly bullish. Primary receipts were light and a decrease for the week of 8,700,000 bushels in the world's available supply of wheat was big enough to be an effective influence of itself, but doubly effective following the enormous decrease during the month of April of nearly 34,000,000 bushels. During the past four weeks the European visible supply shows a decrease of 12,968,000 bushels.

Rains Factor in Market.

Rains over the northwestern sections of Kansas and extending in diminished quantity some distance to the southwest in that state proved the most important feature speculatively. The temporary decline was in reflection of an even greater decline at Kansas City, where the rainfall was more of a vital influence. Northwestern markets were relatively stronger and served to offset the effect of the southwestern rain. The latter, however, were not universally regarded as entirely effective, and it will require a general wetting down of the entire southwestern wheat belt to relieve current anxieties.

While the wheat trade generally shows a disposition to await crop developments both in the southwest and northwest, the sentiment of the traders just at present is largely bearish. One of the big pit traders who studies conditions closely, while inclined to the bearish, says that the market has more of a sold out appearance than anything else. A big commission house, whose customers have been free sellers of late, says that they have reduced their lines to a point which is not at all formidable, and that they are in a position to take the buying side with any new inducement. Those close to the bull leaders say that there is no change in the general situation, and they see evidence of a large cash demand and a big decrease in the visible supply.

Conservative traders say there is too much disposition to sell on breaks to make the short side profitable.

Receipts Unusually Light.

A striking illustration of the scarcity of wheat in the territory tributary to Chicago was the arrival of only three cars of wheat on Thursday, only one car of which was contract grade. Friday not a car of wheat was received. The fact was generally commented upon from the fact that the Patten operations and the high prices for wheat have been

LIGHT BOOZE

Do You Drink It?

A minister's wife had quite a tussle with coffee and her experience is interesting. She says: "During the two years of my training as a nurse, while on night duty, I became addicted to coffee drinking. Between midnight and four in the morning, when the patients were asleep, there was little to do except make the rounds, and it was quite natural that I should want a good, hot cup of coffee about that time. It stimulated me and I could keep awake better.

"After three or four years of coffee drinking I became a nervous wreck and thought that I simply could not live without my coffee. All this time I was subject to frequent bilious attacks, sometimes so severe as to keep me in bed for several days.

"After being married, Husband begged me to leave off coffee for he feared that it had already hurt me almost beyond repair, so I resolved to make an effort to release myself from the hurtful habit.

"I began taking Postum and for a few days felt the languid, tired feeling from the lack of the stimulant, but I liked the taste of Postum, and that answered for the breakfast beverage all right.

"Finally I began to feel clearer headed and had steadier nerves. After a year's use of Postum I now feel like a new woman—have not had any bilious attacks since I left off coffee.

"There's a Reason." Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

Made of Forest Roots

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests abound in most valuable medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases, if we would properly investigate them; and, in confirmation of this conviction, he points with pride to the almost marvelous cures effected by his

"Golden Medical Discovery"

which has proven itself to be the most efficient stomach tonic, liver invigorator and blood cleanser known to medical science. Dyspepsia, or indigestion and torpid liver yield to its curative action.

The reason why it cures these and many other affections, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

Not less marvelous, in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of woman's many peculiar affections, weaknesses and distressing derangements is as is amply attested by thousands of unsolicited testimonials contributed by grateful patients who have been cured by it, often after many other advertised medicines, and physicians had failed.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native, medicinal roots. The processes employed in their manufacture were original with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and appliances specially designed and built for this purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful, habit-forming drugs. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle-wrapper. the most widely-advertised of any market congestion that has been known to the trade. Usually when there is a claim that a deal is on for a current month's delivery there is a rush of grain, but to see the receipts dwindle away to nothing, when there is a big open interest in the delivery, is something that the trade has never known. It shows that the position of the bulls is absolutely right. Comment of traders was that if the wheat is in the country, it is surprising that it should not come here.

While there is an active demand for spring wheat in the northwest, with a fairly good flour trade current, the situation was precisely the reverse in the winter wheat markets. Cash winter wheat during the past week or so has been hard to sell everywhere, and was quite weak in the southwest during the latter part of the week. Minneapolis claimed that the mills had withdrawn large quantities of wheat from elevators there. Local cash wheat sales are of the straggling sort, the big cash houses selling two to five cars each daily. Kansas City reports a daily accumulation of the wheat, despite the big milling capacity there, the second largest of any milling point in the United States.

Much Interest in Corn.

The corn pit last week was the center of attraction among the grain traders. The pit was crowded daily, and speculative interest continues to increase. The bulls have had the better of the argument, bears being on the defensive and finally being forced to take losses. The bear contingent, however, is composed of many of the most successful traders on the floor, and is campaigning vigorously in the hope of ultimately finding the top of the market and inaugurating a real slump toward the level which they believe is more justified by actual conditions.

Just now the legitimate conditions surrounding corn are strong. There are no stocks in country elevators or in local public or private warehouses, and it is claimed that the east has an insufficient stock. Meanwhile, local shippers have sold corn to go east for shipment all the way up to September. These contracts will take care of quite a volume of corn from the country, in case the farmers should begin to shell directly after planting is concluded.

Although southwestern markets are getting some of the after-planting run, the price current at those centers, as well as at interior points in Illinois and Iowa, are relatively higher than Chicago. The interior markets, however, would not stand a large run of corn, but would give way and throw the weight upon the market in case farmers sold liberally. The latter is the situation which the bears are playing for and expecting. The export situation is absolutely hopeless, and bids fair to continue so until American prices have scored an important decline. Argentina is shipping enormously, and promises to more than double its exports of last year.

Hard Sledding for Bears.

It will probably require quite free marketing of corn for at least two weeks to overload the small outside markets, fill pending shipping contracts and leave a surplus to accumulate at the centers. Until the latter result is attained the bear is evidently in for a hard and unsatisfactory struggle. Meanwhile, however, the largest acreage ever planted is going into the ground under the best conditions of soil and time that have been seen in many years. In fact, the spring has been an ideal one for the planting of corn, and the great bulk of it is already in the ground.

May corn advanced 1 1/2¢ last week, July gained 3/4¢, while September was unchanged and December 1/4¢ lower than the previous week's closing prices.

General features of the oats market were the same as for corn, near months maintaining a fair advance, while distant months were a shade lower for the week. Crop reports were generally favorable, and fine weather prevailed in most of the oats-producing states, Missouri reporting a large increase in acreage planted.

Provisions ranged higher and were more than usually active under good buying, in which covering by foreign shorts and buying against sales of cash product for export were factors.

There has been a good commission-house demand in evidence, and in particular being wanted, while some of the local professionals bought rather freely. July pork gained 40¢ in price last week. July lamb was 40¢ higher and short ribs for July delivery were up 25¢.

Return to Greek.

It needed not that Dr. Mahaffy himself should come to the Lowell institute to stem the tide of disloyalty to the ancient canons of education which always demanded Greek as the test and foundation and standard of the so-called "liberal education." The hasty judgment which a generation ago decided that Greek was a "fetich," and that it should be ranked no longer among the necessary courses for entrance into college, has long since been largely disavowed even by some of its champions. There has grown up a truer standard for estimating the value of education than that which subjects it to the question, "What will best pay in the scramble for place and profit?" The age of material expansion in this continent, with every thought bent upon, every nerve straining toward promoting development to bigger and bigger "big things," as big things, is past. There has come the reaction, the repose from the strenuous combat with the physical and economical problems. There has come a restoration of polite learning, philosophy and art to their rightful and eternal prominence as distinguished from the so-called "practical" or "bread-and-butter" branches of college training. And whenever and wherever that reaction and awakening dawned there, by the very law of its being, the Greek literary primary rises and spreads like a religion. When the highest and farthest springs of all western culture—the western against the Asiatic lore—are sought for, both the source and the store of the highest and purest are ever in the Greek letters, the Greek historians, the Greek poets, the Greek dramatists, the Greek thinkers.—Boston Transcript.

Ispahan.

No city has a happier name than Ispahan—the "rendezvous." When visited by the traveler Chardin, in the early part of the eighteenth century, it contained 173 mosques, 48 colleges, 1,800 caravansaries and 273 public baths. But the Afghans, the local vandals, who did not care for bathing, destroyed the aqueducts and slaughtered the bathers. In the matter of great public squares Ispahan can easily outrival any European city. The Meydan, or great square, is a third of a mile in length and about half that breadth. It was once encircled by a canal bordered by fine trees, but these have long since vanished along with the canal.

THE BARRIER

"Her plan was for me to take the younger away that night and for her
to join us later, because pursuit was certain, and three could be traced where one might disappear. She would follow when the opportunity offered.
I saw that he had instilled a terror
into her and that she feared him like death, but as I thought it over her scheme seemed feasible, so I agreed. I was to ride west that hour with the sleeping babe and conceal myself at a place we selected, while she would say that the little one had wandered away and been lost in the canyon or anything else to throw Bennett off.
After a time she would join us. Well,
the little girl never waked when I took her in my arms nor when the mother broke down again and talked to me like a crazy woman.

"I traveled hard that night and swapped horses at daylight. Then,
leaving the wild country behind, I came into a region I didn't know and found a Mexican woman who tended the child for me, for I was close by the place where Merridy was to come.
Every night I went into the village in hopes that some word had arrived,
and I waited patiently for a week.
Then I got the blow. I heard it from the loafers around the little postoffice
first, but it dazed me so I wouldn't believe it till I borrowed the paper
and read the whole story, with the type dancing and leaping before me.
It took some hours for it to seep in even after that, and for years I recalled every word of the d—d report as if it had been branded on me with hot irons. They called it a shocking crime, the most brutal murder California had ever known, and in the headlines was my name in letters that struck me between the eyes like a hammer. Mrs. Dan Bennett had been foully murdered by me in a fit of sudden jealousy, and I had disappeared
with the baby! The husband had returned unexpectedly to find her dying,
so he said, but too far gone to call for help and with barely sufficient strength to tell him who did it and how! Then the paper went on with the tale of my courting her and her turning me down for Bennett. It told how I had gone off alone up into the hills, turning into a bear that nobody, man or child, could approach.
It said I had brooded there a' this time till the mania got uppermost and
so came down to wreak my vengeance.
They never even did me the credit of calling me crazy. I was a fiend incarnate, a beast without soul, and a loof things like that—and, remember, I had never harmed a living thing in all my life. However, that wasn't what hurt. What turned me into a dull, dead, suffering thing was the knowledge that she was gone. For hours I couldn't get beyond that fact. Then came the realization that Bennett had done it, for I reasoned that he had dragged a hint of the truth from her
by very force of the fear he held her in—and slain her. God! The awful rage that came over me! But there was nothing to do. I had sworn to guard the little one, so I couldn't take vengeance on him. I couldn't go back and prove my innocence, for that would give the child to him.

"What a night I spent! The next day
I saw I had been indicted by the grand jury and was a wanted man. From a distance I watched myself become an outlaw; watched the county put a price
upon my head, which Bennett doubled; watched public opinion rise to such a heat that passes began to scour
the mountains. What I noted in particular was a statement in the paper that the sorrowing husband takes his revenge with the quiet courage
which marks a brave man! It happened that the Mexican woman couldn't read and talked little. Still,
I knew they'd find me soon—it couldn't be otherwise—so I made another run
for it, swearing an oath, however, before I left that I'd come back and have
that gambler's head.

"It was lucky I went, for they uncovered my sign the next day, and the country where I'd hidden blazed like a field of dry grass. They were close on my heels, and they closed in from every quarter. But, pshaw, I know the woods like an Indian, and the wild things were my friends again, which would have made it play if I'd been alone, but a girl child of three was harder to manage. So I covered and skulked day after day like a thief or
the murderer they thought me, working always farther into the hidden places, traveling by night with the little one asleep on my bosom, by day
playing with her in some leafy glen,
with my pursuers so close behind that
for weeks I never slept, and my love for the child increased daily till it became almost an insanity.

"We had close squeezes many times,
but I finally won, in spite of the fact that they tracked us clear to the edge of the desert, for I had hit for the state line, knowing that Nevada was a wilderness and feeling that I'd surely lose them there. And I did. But in doing it I nearly lost Merridy. You see, the constant travel and hardship
was too much for a prattling baby, and
she fell sick from the heat, the dust
and thirst.

"I was bound for the nearest ranch
or camp where a woman could be found; but, as luck would have it, I went through without trying. I had gone farther from men and things,
however, than I thought, and this return pursuit was a million times worse
than the other, for I couldn't go fast enough to shake Death, who ran with his hand on my canteen or rode on my horse's rump. It was then I found Alluna. She was with a hunting party of Pah-Utes, who knew nothing of me

nor of the white man's affairs and cared less, and when I saw the little squaw I rode my horse up beside her,
laid the sick child in her arms, then tumbled out of the saddle. They had a harder job to pull me through than they did to save Merridy.

"The little one was playing around
several days before I got back my reason. Meanwhile the party had moved north, taking us with them, and, as it happened, just missing a posse who were returning from the desert.

"When I was able to get about I told her I must be going, but as I told her I watched her face and saw the sign I wanted. The white girl had clutched at her like she had at me, and she couldn't give her up, so I made a dicker with her old man. It took all the money I had to buy that squaw,
but I knew the kiddie must have a woman's care, and the three of us
started out soon after alone and broke.

"Since then we three have never rested. I left them once in Idaho and went back to Mesa, riding all the way, mostly by night, but Bennett was gone.
He'd run down mighty fast after Merridy died till he had a killing in his place. Instead of stopping to face it out the yellow in him rose to the surface, and he left before sunup, as I had

"Let me in! Quick! I've got work for you to do!"

left, making a clean get-away, too, for
there was no such hullabaloo raised about killing a man as there was about the other. So my trip was all for nothing.

"I figured it wouldn't be right to either you or Necla to let you go it blind, and so I came in to tell you this whole thing and to give myself up."

Gale stopped, then poured himself
another drink.

"To give yourself up?" echoed Bur-
cell vaguely. "How do you mean?"
He had sat like one in a trance during
the long recital, only his eyes alive.

"I'm under indictment for murder,"
said the trader. "I have been for fifteen years, and there's no chance in the world for me to prove my innocence."

"Have you told Necla?" the young man inquired.

"No; you'll have to do that. I never could. She might—disbelieve. What's more, you mustn't tell her yet. Wait till I give the word."

"John Gale," said the Lieutenant,
"you're the bravest man I ever knew
and the best." He choked a bit. "You sacrificed all that life meant when this girl was a baby, and now when she has come into womanhood you give up your blood for her. By all that's great, you are a man! I want your hand!"

Then he inquired irrelevantly: "But what about Bennett, Mr. Gale? You say you never found him?"

The trader answered after a moment's hesitation. "He is still at large," at which his companion exclaimed, "I'd love to meet him in your stead!"

Gale seemed seized with a desire to speak, but even while he hesitated out of the silent night there came the sound of quick footsteps approaching
briskly, as if the owner were in haste
and knew whether he was bound.

"Lieutenant Burrell!" a gruff voice cried. "Let me in! Quick! I've got work for you to do! Open up! This is Ben Stark!"

Bellamy's Hydroplane.
The London Daily Mail tells about Lord Bellamy's hydroplane, which consists of two narrow canvas deck
canoes placed side by side three feet apart and joined by stout planks. We would call that a catamaran in this country. Amidships, between these two canoes, is the propeller which revolves entirely in the air and is driven by a six-cylinder, 50-horse power motor. When it rests it draws three inches of water, but the plane causes
no displacement below the surface
when it rises to its work. The exhibition on the Thames on Easter Sunday showed the boat making forty miles an hour, but it did not damage
the banks in the least; there was no
wash. Mr. Bellamy carried one English pressman as a passenger. The English call the boat a "skimmer."—
Salt Lake City Telegraph.

"Would you have the trusts, Your Honor, placed at the mercy of the government?" exclaimed the attorney
for the biggest bunch. "Strikes me that would be a simple reversal of present conditions," remarked the attorney for the other side, and calmly
watched the case go to the jury.

WHITE SLAVE LAW

PASSAGE OF MEASURE BY THE SENATE NOW SURE.

Eighty Per Cent of the 5,000 Yearly
Recruits for Chicago's Brothels
Are Trapped.

Chicago, May 18.—Passage of the Ledere "white slave bills" by the Illinois house of representatives was the signal for renewed efforts in their behalf by the committee which drafted
them and secured their endorsement by the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs, the Union League, Hamilton, Irons, Press, City and several other Chicago clubs, the Illinois
Vigilance association and Chicago
Law and Order league. This committee on legislation, appointed by the Woman's World to follow up exposures by the federal and state
prosecutors, immediately sent representatives and telephone and telegraph messages to Springfield to insure passage of the bills in the senate
in spite of deadlocks and Chicago charter bills. Word came back that the bills would pass without serious struggle. Governor Deneen will sign them without delay.

Writing on "Warfare Against the White Slave Trade," Clifford G. Roe,
assistant state's attorney and a member of the committee declares in the Woman's World: "In Chicago alone
there are more than 25,000 women
leading a life of shame, and statistics
show that the average life of a fallen woman is five years. Five thousand persons must, therefore, be recruited every year in Chicago alone. How many voluntarily go into this life? It is estimated that about 20 per cent.
This shows us that 80 per cent are led into it by some scheme or entrapped and sold, and at least two-thirds of his number are from our own country, being inveigled from farms, towns and cities.

"One may inquire, 'How is it that girls are procured so easily without the public being aware of what is going on?' The answer is that love and ambition are the baits which the procurers flout in the faces of their proposed victims. Often it happens that promises of positions on the stage, in stores and various occupations alluring to young girls cause
many to fall captives in the great net
set for them.

"The methods employed to entice

Who Ever Heard of a Baldheaded
Indian? Nobody.

No, these dusky rovers of the plains, with their strange intuition
for discovering Nature's own remedies, knew of the Wild Sage Brush of the West, and knew that a brew
made of its spiky leaves would keep their scalps clean and healthy and also preserve the glossy blackness of their hair. In this generation this simple brew of the "medicine man"
of the tribe has been vastly improved
as a hair tonic and color restorer by the addition of other valuable ingredients, the most important being Sulphur, long recognized by scalp specialists as being a valuable remedy
for hair and scalp troubles.

In fact, all healthy hair contains a certain amount of sulphur, which keeps the hair in good condition and protects the hair roots from the attack of germs, which cause dandruff,
itching scalp, falling hair and other troubles of the sort. When the hair lacks the proper amount of sulphur,
as is shown by its splitting at the ends, coming out or losing its color,
the lack should be supplied by using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Restorer, a scientific preparation of Sulphur, Wild Sage and other valuable medicinal ingredients—a wonderful remedy for keeping the scalp
healthy and making the hair grow.
The manufacturers of this remedy authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented. W. J. Gilbert, Paducah, Ky., sells it at 50c and $1.00 a bottle
or The Wyeth Chemical company, of New York City, will send it, express prepaid, upon receipt of price.

young women are quite similar, but
as to the particulars each case varies to some extent. After the girls are once within the resort, the stories are about the same. The street clothes are seized and parlor dresses varying in length are put upon them. They are threatened, never permitted to write letters, never permitted the use of the telephone, never trusted
outside the house without the escort
of a procurer, until two or three months have elapsed, when they are considered hardened to the life and too ashamed to face parents and friends again.

"Girls are told of or perhaps have witnessed others who tried to escape
have seen their failure and punishment and are thereby cowed into submission. They are always held upon the pretense of being indebted to the house and this indebtedness has long been the backbone of the white slave system. From the time the girl is first sold into the house she is constantly in debt. First, for the money
the owner gave to the procurer for her, next for her parlor clothes, then
for the money her procurer borrows
from the owner, on her as his property, goods and chattels. The bonds of slavery are thus fastened upon these poor mortals by a system of debt and vice that the people of this great country little realized existed until lately." Mr. Roe gives in detail the methods employed by which several girls, who procurers have been prosecuted were captured. Love and ambition are the baits most often used, he says.

EXTENSION SOUTH OF FOUNTAIN AVE.

Provided for in Ordinance Passed Last Night.

City Will Construct Culvert Over
Bradshaw Creek After the Fall.

LICENSE INSPECTOR MATTER.

The regular meeting of the council board was held last night in the council chamber at the city hall and all the members were present. There was not much new business to come before the board. A communication from City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., in regard to the salary of License Inspector Ed Hubbard was received and filed. The communication stated that the office was created a number of years ago and the salary fixed at $50 per month, but the salary paid has since been $65 per month.

The report of the joint finance committee, recommending accounts and salaries for allowance and payment for the first half of May to the amount of $3,101.75, adopted by the board.

Fountain Avenue Extension.

An ordinance providing for the construction of an alley in Mechanicsburg between Meyers street and Farley place, was given second passage. An ordinance was given first and second passage providing for the construction of Fountain avenue from Broadway south to B street. The property for this street has been given the city and the property owners will pay for the construction of the street, except putting in the culvert over Bradshaw creek, which the city will pay for. The ordinance first read that all expense should be put on the property owners, but on motion of Councilman Duvall it was amended to read that the city would pay for putting in the culvert. A territory of 50 acres will be opened up by this street. Attorney W. V. Eaton presented a petition to the council signed by a majority of the property owners on Jefferson street between Thirtieth and Sixteenth streets, requesting that the property owners, at their expense, be allowed to put a sanitary and storm water sewer on Jefferson street. The request was referred to the ordinance committee and the city solicitor.

The recommendation of the public improvement committee in awarding the contract for the vault in City Engineer L. A. Washington's office for $1,000 was ratified by the council. The vault to be paid for out of the contingent fund. A recommendation from the public improvement committee to have the patrol house repaired, not to cost over $150, was concurred in by the councilmen.

Property owners and residents of the north side of the city petitioned the board to open Thirtieth street between Trimble and Clay streets. The petition was referred to the city engineer and street committee.

A communication from the board of public works was referred to the street committee, asking the council to have all street improvement ordinances passed at an early date as possible so that the work can be finished this summer. Two petitions from residents, asking for arc lights at Tenth and Terrell streets, and in front of Little's chapel in Littleville, were referred to the board of public works.

J. Hovecamp & company were granted a quart liquor dealer's license in Mechanicsburg. Councilmen Wilson and Young voted against the granting of the license.

M. D. Sanders asked a refund of $4.65 taxes paid on property at Sixteenth and Harrison streets, because the taxes had already been paid by Duke Williams. The request was referred to the city treasurer. M. A. Dillhart reported that he had been over-assessed on property and asked a refund of money paid for taxes. The report was referred to the board of supervisors.

City Clerk Maurice McIntyre on request put before the board the question of the water company extending the main on Eighth street between Madison and Clay streets, which the company was requested to do three years ago. The clerk was authorized to again ask the water company to put down the main on Eighth street.

Residents along the Rowlandtown car line have been complaining because of no service given them when a colored dance is going on in Rowlandtown and on Saturday nights. The residents say the colored patrons fill the cars. On motion of Councilman Duvall the railroad and telegraph committee was instructed to go to the manager of the traction company and see what could be done to better the condition.

Present at last night's meeting were Councilmen Foreman, Bowers, Duvall, Hannin, Kreutzer, Lally, Mayer, McCarty, VanMeter, Wanner, Wilson and Young.

ENDEAVORERS

CONVENTION COMES TO CLOSE
AT NICHOLASVILLE.

One of the Most Successful Meetings
in History of Union—Louisville
Next Year.

Nicholasville, Ky., May 18.—The Christian Endeavor state convention, which has been in session here since Friday evening, closed last evening. The convention was one of the most successful in the history of the Kentucky Endeavor Union. One of the best speeches during the convention was that of Elder H. C. Garrison, of Danville, who delivered the convention sermon. The meetings closed with a very impressive pantomime. Miss Elizabeth Stears, the attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Stears, of this place, rendered the pantomime, while Misses Flora South of Frankfort, and Mary T. Seacore, of Nicholasville, sang softly, "Rock of Ages." The following officers were elected:

President, Mr. C. M. Jordan, of Louisville; secretary, Mrs. C. F. Evans, of Burgin; treasurer, Mr. N. Houston Rion, of Paris.

Denominational vice presidents: Baptist, Dr. J. W. Joubert, Eminence; Christian, Mr. C. E. Martin, of Nicholasville; Methodist, the Rev. T. F. Tallafiero, of Frankfort; Northern Presbyterian, Mr. Charles M. Cooper, of Flemingsburg; Southern Presbyterian, the Rev. W. W. Akers, of Mayfield; English Lutheran, the Rev. A. C. Miller, of Louisville; Congregational, Prof. J. R. Robinson, of Berea.

Chairmen of committees: Good citizenship, Hon. J. W. Chandler, of Louisville; look-out, Mrs. Margaret Metcalf, of Covington; transportation manager, Mr. Charles W. Adams, of Newport.

The convention has been invited to Louisville next year and accepted the invitation.

A resolution was passed recommending that the negotiations now pending with the Epworth League for its union with the Christian Endeavor be continued and that an invitation be extended to all similar organizations among the young people of the state.

WASHINGTON WITHOUT WATER.
Is Like Trying to Get Rid of Dandruff Without Herpicide.

Did you ever see any one trying to wash themselves without soap or water?

If you did what would you say of him? It is every bit as foolish to try to get rid of dandruff and to prevent baldness by feeding the germs which cause it, with Cantharides, Vaseline, Glycerine and similar substances which form the principal ingredients of most so-called Hair Growers.

Newbro's Herpicide is successful because it attacks and kills the parasitic germ which feeds on the hair roots.

It is the original and only genuine scalp germicide manufactured. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. $1.00 bottles guaranteed. R. W. Walker Co., special agents.

LIVESTOCK.

Louisville, Ky., May 18.—Cattle—The receipts were 1,122 head. There was a very good attendance of buyers in evidence, and trading ruled fairly active, all desirable kinds of killing cattle; that is, good slop steers and well-finished cattle, sold readily and 10@15c higher, medium and inferior kinds, particularly the grassy half fat kinds, were no more than steady. Light offerings of feeders and stockers caused a firmness in the tone of the market on that class, and some thought prices were a shade better. Bulls steady, canners and cutters slow. Milch cows unchanged.

Prime heavy steers firm and 10@15c better. The pens were well cleared, and the market closed firm. We quote shipping steers, $5.00@6.35; beef steers, $3.50@5.85; fat heifers, $3.50@5.75; fat cows, $3.50@5.25; cutters, $2.25@3.50; canners, $1.90@2.25; bulls, $2.25@4.25; feeders, $3.00@6.30; stockers, $2.25@4.50; choice milch cows, $35@45; common to medium, $15@35.

TOBACCO NEWS

Clarksville Tobacco, Clarksville, May 18.—The local tobacco market continues active with a good demand for all offerings. The receipts in the independent market last week were 541 hogsheads; sales 27 hogsheads, with no material change in prices. The loose floor was house report sales amounting to 150,000 pounds. The receipts are from a wide area of country in Kentucky and Tennessee. The local salesman of the Dark Tobacco Growers' association reports the sale of 133 hogsheads at schedule prices. Four vessels have sailed from Bremen for New Orleans to be loaded with black patch tobacco which indicates that a swarm of orders from Germany will soon appear in the market.
